TO BORE FOR OIL IN HANCOCK COUNTY IS PROMISED IN 30 DAYS

First Oil Lease Is Filed For Record at Courthouse, Including Over Two Thousand Acres Around Baldwin Lodge Near Lakeshore.

ROXANA PETROLEUM CORPORATION
OF ST. LOUIS FILES SPECIFIC LEASE

This Is the First Lease For Similar Purpose to Be Filed For Record—Others Expected to Follow Shortly, It Is Stated By Responsible Parties.

To bore for oil in Hancock county is the latest and with such representative companies as are coming to this locality for the purpose, the outlook must be viewed with more than ordinary consideration.

No fly-by-night companies, selling stock from 10 cents to $1.00 per share to an unsuspecting public, are coming here, for they do not exist. It is the bigger and recognized companies preparing to get mineral leases on thousands of acres that are coming and will bore with capital already in hand.

The first "oil lease" was filed for record in Hancock county this week; more will follow. There are several leases by different companies awaiting full number of signatures; they will be probably filled with the county clerk within the next week or ten days.

Bay St. Louis has never had in immediate prospect a bigger and more boom prospects than at present. Watch values. Watch us grow, knowing ones assert.

The Echo is assured by representative that it is possible the derrick for drilling will be in action in less than thirty days, if present plans carry.

There was filed for record in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock county on Friday, May 21st, a lease by the Roxana Petroleum Corporation, of St. Louis, Mo., securing mineral rights over a territory comprising 2,591.14 acres, owned by the Crescent Realty Corporation, Inc., a Louisiana corporation domiciled in New Orleans, represented by its president, J. L. Dickey, for the cash sum of $1,295.57, representing a lease price of 50 cents per acre.

In and Around "Baldwin Lodge." The land embodies that section in the vicinity of "Baldwin Lodge" and adjacent to Pearl river, known in part as the Boisdeau Claim, and more lately known as lands conveyed by Henry F. Baldwin et al. to Sea Glen Farms.

All of the lands are situated in Townships 9 and 10 South, Range 15 and 16 West, and as the record of transfer shows, covered by ninety-one and four-tenths (91.4) acres, more or less.

The lease provides the Roxana Petroleum corporation may drill for oil, to run pipe lines, locate storage tanks; to produce gas, sulphur and other different royalties on products are specifically stated.

A clause of the lease says: "This lease shall terminate as to both parties unless lessee either (1) on or before the 12th day of April, 1928, herein called "selection date," shall notify lessor that lessee will drill a well or excavate a mine on said land and shall (within sixty days after said selection date) commence operations therefor; or (2), on or before said selection date, shall pay or tender to lessor the sum of five dollars ($5.00) for each acre of the land hereby leased which lessee then elects to continue to hold hereunder, it being provided that that portion, if any, of said price, not less than five hundred ($500) acres then delivered to the lessor, shall be retained by the lessee insofar as it covers, and affects, and balance of said land which lessee then elects to surrender, the right at lessee's election so to continue to hold or to surrender any part and a balance of said land being hereby granted to lessee, which payment or tender shall maintain lessee's rights in effect without any operations hereunder for one year from said selection date, etc."

Representatives of the Dixie Oil company, an auxiliary of the Standard Oil company, has been on the ground for several weeks, and thousands of acres of land along Jordan river are covered by options for oil leases. It is expected these are being negotiated and will be filed for record soon.

W. A. STARR IS CANDIDATE FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE

Former Incumbent Announces Intention of Candidacy and Solicits Vote—Justice to All and Special Privileges to None" Is Motto.

Judge W. A. Starr is formally announced in this issue of The Echo as a candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace, District No. 6. I do so with the knowledge that one who holds that office must be willing at all times to serve the people whether it be day or night," Judge Starr stated to The Echo.

"During the time I served as Justice of the Peace I presided without fear or favor in the courtroom. My experience has thoroughly equipped me for that responsible position, as my docket will show a vast amount of civil and criminal cases dispatched promptly. No business that came before my court was ever permitted to drag any one in litigation can say that I was partial to any individual or class.

"If again elected to the office of Justice of the Peace, I will always be my desire to give the public the best that is in me.

"Matters that can grow into serious costly litigation can often be settled in the Justice of the Peace court when given proper attention and a fair trial. This has always been my policy and will continue to be in all matters regardless of the magnitude of the subject before the court.

"If again elected Justice of the Peace, I will, as far as in me lay, do justice to all with special privileges to none."

CATHOLIC CHURCH HAS USHERS

New Organization Perfected For Church of "Our Lady of the Gulf."

PLAN IN EFFECT
SUNDAY NEXT

Permanent Officers Elected For Ushers' Society on Monday Night.

At a meeting of a number of gentlemen parishioners of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Catholic church, held Monday night at K. C. Hall, in Main street, for the purpose of perfecting an organization to be known as Ushers' Society, there were present Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, Christian Capdevielle, Gus Ladner, Charles Hillen, Charles St. Armand, A. Loiacono, Irwin Bontemps, Harry S. Saucier, R. A. Cuevas, Joseph O. Mauffray, L. J. Burg, A. Scaife, Leo Murtagh, E. J. Arceneaux, Wallace Bontemps, A. G. Favre, acting secretary; Alden Mauffray, Alvin Weinberg, A. R. Hart, Arthur A. Scaife, J. J. Gordon, August Schiro, Henry Stamand.

Election for permanent officers resulted, Joseph O. Mauffray, president; Harry S. Saucier, vice-president; A. A. Scaife, secretary; Christian Capdevielle, treasurer; L. J. Burg, chairman executive committee.

There are forty masses every Sunday at the church and for each one a chairman of the different committees appointed to serve were first selected. L. J. Burg, 6 o'clock mass; Christian Capdevielle, 7 o'clock mass; Charles Hillen, 8:30 o'clock mass; H. S. Saucier, 10 o'clock.

Full standing committee of ushers for different masses:

Six O'clock—L. J. Burg, Gus Ladner, A. Loiacono, Irwin Bontemps, Charles St. Armand, A. G. Favre.

Seven O'clock—August Schiro, E. J. Arceneaux, R. A. Cuevas, Alvin Weinberg, Arthur Scaife, Raymond Cuevas, Christian Capdevielle, George Scheib.

Eight Thirty O'clock—Charles Hillen, Jos. O. Mauffray, Wallace Bontemps.

Ten O'clock—Harry S. Saucier, Henry Stamand, Townsend Wolfe, A. Scaife, Sr., Leo Murtagh, Alden Mauffray.

Organization of society of ushers is born of the fact the church on next Sunday, the 4th, will begin the collection of seat rent rather than annual pew rent for the reason the system has been adopted in every parish over the country. The plan works satisfactorily to all concerned. It saves the paying of one large sum for pew rent, which, after all, is not sufficient revenue for maintenance of church and rectory and to carry the general good work of the church, and to the individual it is easier to pay the ten-cent seat fee at every service which at the end of the year is in excess of the pew rent total.

The system for collection will be in charge of the ushers, who will collect and place each person to a pew and see a seat is procured for the money.

The parishioners were handed a circular letter last Sunday. A second and final one will be announced tomorrow the 30-cent weekly envelope collection will be discontinued. However, the collection at the offertory during every mass will be continued, and the pastor requests contributions be not curtailed. In fact, it is respectfully urged as much as possible to keep the church recently finished has a heavy bonded debt and these obligations must be met as they fall due. The church has no other sources of revenue.

For a "White Way" District.

Business people in that section of the Beach Front from Main street to the Echo Bldg., are engaged in putting through what they term a "white way," with the plan to place a brightly illuminated house in this city brightly illuminated every night; to make it one of the "bright spots" of the city, properly reasoning that the crowds will follow the lights.

This is started with the A. & G. theater, with its many lights. Messrs. Bread & Cue, Dodge and Pontiac auto sales agents, occupying the former A. & G. theater, renovated and remodeled for their purpose, will use the same exterior lighting for the building, and electricians are at work this week on the "white way" plan.

The Knights wish to thank the W. B. A. Ladies who so willingly offered their services, mentioning especially Misses Miriam and Levia Engman.

The prizes for winner of the pool tournament were awarded, E. J. Arceneaux being winner of the straight pool and also had high run; Wallace Bontemps was winner of the French pool tournament.

Baptist Revival Closes.

The revival at the First Baptist church came to a close last Sunday night, extending over a period of eight days. The pastor was assisted by Rev. P. L. Lipsey, D. D., of Clinton, Miss., editor of "The Baptist Record," official organ of the Baptist denomination of Mississippi, also Mr. A. H. Doty, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, directed the singing. The services of these two gentlemen were entirely satisfactory to all who had the pleasure of hearing them. Quite a revival came to the church, persons attending the services aggregating around 1,000. There were fifteen new names added to the membership, nine of them upon profession of faith and were baptized.

Wednesday night in the church, the pastor was assisted by Rev. J. G. Gilmore.

SPILLWAY SYSTEM IS ENDORSED

Local Citizen, Appointed to Make Investigations, So Expresses Opinion.

COMMITTEE TO VISIT WATERS

Will View If River Spillway Water Damages Gulf Coast Water and Fisheries.

R. N. Blaize, resident of Bay St. Louis, is one of the best posted men of the city on divers things that affect the public and their interest. "I am of the firm opinion," he said to The Echo, "that the spillway system is the only solution for the Mississippi river flood situation, and where it was formerly thought dangerous to the Coast fisheries that idea has long been dispelled from experience.

"For instance," he continued, "look at the present situation. Water from the Payatas crosses below the city of New Orleans has been flowing this way for some time now, passing out and through in the far distance of the Mississippi Sound, with no effect at all. Even Senator Harrison, opposed to the spillway, has changed his opinion, for the reason he is convinced it is the only hope for the people of the Mississippi valley and is not injurious to our oyster and fish resources as was first thought."

To represent Bay St. Louis, Mr. Blaize has been invited, along with O. J. Dedeaux, of Bogalusa, La., V. V. Abbey, of Pass Christian, Louis Stachling, of Biloxi, and H. S. Gaudier, of Pascagoula, by R. L. Simpson, of Gulfport, who has taken the initiative in the premises, to meet and subsequently enter upon a thorough investigation of the subject.

Mr. Blaize stated to The Echo he had accepted Mr. Simpson's invitation on behalf of Bay St. Louis, and would be willing to give time from his own personal business in behalf of the people's interest and as well to the victims of the flood.

"I firmly believe the spillway is the only hope and will not injure our waters. We will no doubt board the Althea Vardaman, state-owned, and the committee will make a cordial invitation to a week investigating and taking notes," concluded Mr. Blaize.

He is of the opinion the spillway will do us no harm and will benefit an area of overwhelming proportion as compared to the Coast.

Additional Contributions Acknowledged.

The Chamber of Commerce and The Sea Coast Echo are extending every endeavor to acknowledge every contribution made to the Mississippi flood sufferers, even though the task is difficult, so many are the names and contributed through different sources. "We are doing the very best we can in this direction," said Secretary S. F. Gentry, "and we hope to omit none and offend no one."

Additional acknowledgements: R. N. Blaize, $25.00; Judge J. A. Breath, $15.00; F. J. Taconi, $1.00; A. B. Day, $5.00.

Meetings of the Rotary club are always interesting. In fact, a week without a Rotary meeting would leave an aching void. There would be something missing. Hence, it is one of the bright satellites of the week's doings.

Wednesday evening was no exception. The meeting was held at the local Ritz-Carlton, and following the excellent banquet Mine Host Babcock makes it a special point to always have ready for the Rotary President Evans introduced Rev. Father Costello, pastor of St. Claire's church, Waveland, who was told that since it was "Community Service Night" he might choose any subject, for anything he would say would be sure to be constructive and fitting.

Father Costello is quite an orator, although unassuming; he is eloquent and his expressions are born from good thought. His discourses give evidence of study and learning. On Wednesday he chose as his subject, "The Brotherhood of Man," and spoke eloquently for about twenty or more minutes. For this classic a unanimous vote of appreciation was registered by much applause.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER—TIME FOR ACTION.MAKING NEWSPRINT IN HANCOCK COUNTY.

"From Cambridge, Mass., comes out some fairly definite information regarding the successful manufacture of newsprint paper from a combination of gum and Southern pine pulp. Arthur D. Little, Inc., is credited in the reports with having discovered the fiber mixture that will give paper of desired quality and price, and H. S. Weston, of Logtown, Miss., lumberman and capitalist, is announced as the lumber expert who has been co-operating with the chemists in seeking materials and methods for the production of a paper product from Southern woods that can compete with spruce pulp of our Northern states, Canadian and Alaskan factories. Others also no doubt have been digging earnestly at this problem, but the Cambridge announcement is, we believe, the first that has made actual claim to success."

The foregoing is part of an editorial which appeared in the New Orleans Times-Picayune a few mornings since, and is very significant inasmuch it concerns this section, Hancock county and Bay St. Louis.

It occurred some time back to H. S. Weston, president of the H. Weston Lumber Company, and his immediate associates that it would be possible to manufacture newsprint paper from local wood fibre, pine and especially the gum wood of Honey Island and vicinity, and hardwood as well. Of the two latter the supply would well nigh be inexhaustible.

Accordingly, Mr. Weston shipped several carloads of local wood to Maine, where extensive experiments were carried on, and at first to no avail. Mr. Weston felt experiments had not been carried on with sufficient time and effort and insisted they continue, regardless of cost. Finally, it was proven he had the right vision. Success crowned the effort and, as Mr. Weston tells it, to the Echo, the process was duly patented. Following the successful experiment, quite an amount of newsprint was manufactured from local wood fibre, and on one occasion, as a further test a whole edition of the Times-Picayune printed on this paper. It was demonstrated this paper had not only the proper substance and color but that it stood the wear of the rapid press with admirable satisfaction to all concerned. Tests and experiments were costly, but the laboratory ramifications were worth it, even though entailing an expenditure of some $20,000.00.

Just what is planned for the present is not given out for publication, for matters have not sufficiently progressed to such point of maturity, but it can be said the hope is entertained some day it will be possible to build such paper mill in Hancock county that would manufacture the million of acres of indifferent timber in this and adjoining counties, and such mill located locally would give our people employment and the county the benefit of a substantial payroll.

Canadian spruce is plentiful in a sense, but the cutting down of whole forests to supply the great metropolitan journals with their hundreds of millions of circulation during any one year will in time begin to tell. Possibly the present high price of newsprint is due to the waning of source of supply.

Paper mills at Bogalusa and at Pascagoula have proven successful to the extent that it became necessary to enlarge the latter plant with an entailed expenditure of over a million dollars. However, these mills manufacture paper for commercial usage, such as wrapping and bags. The demand is for newsprint, gigantic and other presses over the country are yawning for more all the time, limitless is the demand. With the Weston process patented there is an excellent field and constant demand and the hope is expressed for the benefit of all it might concern the paper mill in Hancock county will soon be forthcoming.

MISSISSIPPI HOTELS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.

It is possible "the father of waters"—the Mississippi—has given us a political issue for 1928. Certain it is that the nation has suffered one of its greatest calamities during the last few weeks. It must not occur again.

Whether or not the people should demand a special session of Congress to take immediate action, is a question. We are so fearful such session might run off into political jockeying, maneuvering, filibuster or what not that we hesitate to advocate such session. However: For twenty years Congress has known this condition must be faced and action taken to eliminate a flood of this kind. It was only a question of when all head waters would be high at the same time. That condition came about this year. You see the results.

President Roosevelt's Conservation Commission engineers urged that Mississippi floods be abolished by storage reservoirs at the head waters and its main tributaries. That was twenty years ago—and since then Congress has evidently had more important business than to protect the thousands in the Mississippi valley against devastation.

Whether it be in special session or the regular session in December, the first thing Congress should consider and adopt is Secretary Hoover's national plan for water conservation and distribution. One project therein is designed to bar any repetition of the Mississippi disaster by building thirteen storage dams in the head waters of the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, incidentally developing unknown horsepower of electric energy. When these two rivers are controlled, the Mississippi will be harmless.

We were rich enough to retire one billion dollars of our national debt last year. We are talking about another three hundred million dollar tax cut next session of Congress. Therefore, we are too rich to keep congressmen in office who will not protect our fellow citizens and home builders, but instead, spend their time playing politics for corporate interests.

MISSISSIPPI HOTELS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.

That hotels built in Mississippi are exempt from taxation for a period of five years is not generally known as it should. In fact, it should be broadcast over the country and would, in a measure, serve to attract attention hither.

This subject is serving as a vehicle for much publicity just now, and a means of attracting direct attention to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Recently an advertisement appearing in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo carried, along with other reading matter, this paragraph:

"As all new hotels of 50 rooms or more in Mississippi are now exempt from taxation for five years from commencement of construction, we believe a most excellent opportunity now exists for an investment of this class in that locality."

This advertisement with the above incorporated, carried this striking title, "Hotels in Mississippi," with the subject, "Exempt From Taxation For Five Years." It was carried in the New Orleans newspapers and on Wednesday appeared in the Chicago Tribune and New York Times, with two million circulation. Five readers is the accepted average for every newspaper, which resolves to ten million readers. This is broadcasting in a fertile territory and well worthy of mention. Such extensive publicity is bound to be productive in some manner or another. There has never been a newspaper advertisement yet that has not borne fruit.

Michigan, Civilized State.
Mr. Mellon Housekeeping.
The Ideal Child.
Here—Real News.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1927)

The State of Michigan is still trying to reach a decision on capital punishment. Certain legislators appear to think that to discourage murder the State must imitate the murder and inflict death.

It is proposed to restore capital punishment in Michigan, where it has long been unknown.

Michigan is a civilized state, an example to others in many ways. It is to be hoped the Legislature will not decide that civilization in Michigan needs the help of a hangman, or a man to throw the switch on an electric chair.

What is the ideal child, in your opinion? Secretary Hoover, president of the American Child Health association, says the normal child, "is not superfluously happy or deeply depressed, is robust, vociferous, not ruled by emotions." That is a good definition of a child destined to develop into a go-getter.

On the other hand, Napoleon, who told all the adult children of Europe what they should do, was not vociferous or robust. He was sickly, shallow, sulked in a corner because his schoolmates laughed at his Corsican accent, and was entirely ruled by his one emotion, AMBITION.

The industry commission of the League of Nations reports 20,000,000 out of work in Europe and blames the United States, of course. Europe should also blame itself for allowing 20,000,000 pairs of hands to remain idle.

A good farmer keeps his horses and oxen working, a good industrialist keeps his machines busy. Europe needs canals, roads, houses and it should be possible to find work for all. That would be easy if men could get away from the idea that the only sound reason for putting a man to work is to let somebody else make a profit out of his labor.

What is the real wealth of this country? Nobody could guess within a thousand billions.

For instance, Mr. Bonfils, through his Denver Post, announces discovery in Colorado of a bed of manganese, by far the richest in the world, six million tons of ore in sight.

How many more billions are hidden away in the mountains that stretch across and up and down this country, feebly tapped here and there by prospectors, but never really PROSPECTED.

Great Britain receives the right reply to her note concerning Mr. Mellon's letter to college professors about international debts. Secretary Kellogg tells Britain that when Secretary Mellon writes to American professors in our business. That covers the ground.

Incidentally, the British admit that beginning in 1932 they will be getting from their European debtors, recently called "belligerent Allies," more than enough to cover all payments to the United States. Mr. Mellon's statement was strictly accurate, barring one clerical error, and it enlightened his fellow citizens.

This is news. A tractor and plow with no driver, all by themselves, guided by electricity, ploughed a twenty-acre field on the farm of the Nebraska Agricultural College recently, farmers, professors and business men looking on. The first furrow only was ploughed under human guidance. The furrow acted as guide and the machine did the rest.

There you have the ultimate solution of the farm question, and proof that "back to the farm" is not necessary.

The farmer will sit, spyglass in hand, on a tower in the middle of his acres, watching one machine spraying potatoes, another cultivating corn, a third cutting green oats for hay, and not a farm hand on the place.

In Kansas alone this year additional "combination" machines for harvesting wheat will do away with 25,000 itinerant extra farm hands.

Brains, money and machinery will solve the farm problem as they have solved other industrial problems.

LITTLE ECHOES

Putting the horse before the cart has now been changed to "quart before the horse" by obliging bootleggers.

The nearest thing yet to "making both ends meet" are the new 1927 bathing suits we see displayed in the shop windows.

There are no really hard times for the efficient—nor good times for the inefficient.

America's army of summer tourists is already on the move. Say a prayer for the poor "Hot Dogs."

Will Jack Dempsey fight again? Now seems to be the public question. Sure he will. Maybe not in the ring but, well, he's married, isn't he?

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled that bootleggers must pay income tax. Which reminds us of the method to exterminate potato bugs, which is "Now first catch the bug then."

Trying to be brutally frank to a flapper the other day we told her that her hair looked like a mop. She wanted to know what a mop looked like.

The President no longer exercises with dumbbells," says a Washington dispatch. "Can he with Congress not be exercised, in fact?"

A straw will show which way the wind blows—especially if it's one of these new $5 round babies and it gets about a ten-foot start on you.

Doctors are urging we have laws to curb the sale of cosmetics which are dangerous to public health. Evidently some of the M. D.'s have gone home with powder on their shoulder and rouge on the lip.

According to the Department of Agriculture, 347 useful products are produced from the cotton plant.

HOME MAKING TRULY AN ART.

(Copyrighted For The Echo—Reproduction Forbidden).

Probably more human happiness depends upon how a home is kept than upon any other thing. Previous to our schools have devoted little time to this important subject. Pupils are taught geometry, geography and arithmetic; they are taught logic and latin and music and all sorts of plain and ornamental information, but not home-keeping.

It is necessary to elevate the business of home-making into an art, to get people enthusiastic about it and to impress upon the mind of youth its dignity and importance.

At the State Teachers' College in Pittsburg, Kansas, they have established a house for the purpose of developing right standards of courtesy, hospitality and social graces, etc., all necessary in the successful management of a home.

They have secured a house, such a one as would be used by a family of moderate means, and instruct pupils how to take care of it. They have a house manager who plans menus, does marketing, presides at the table and so on. They teach the girls how to cook, prepare food and keep the kitchen in order.

Another girl assists the cook in preparing salads, cares for the dining room and acts as waitress.

Still another is called housekeeper. She dusts and keeps the house in clean order.

A laundress tends to the house linen and stokes the furnace.

The duties are rotated so that a student gets practice in every kind of home work.

They have guests and often entertain the president of the college and the faculty.

The house is managed on a budget plan and all expenditures are limited.

The records are kept in permanent form.

The house is self-supporting and the students pay for room and board.

As there is no child in the house they are going to adopt a child and study child training.

Since so much depends upon the way a home is kept this sort of training seems to be sensible.

Expensive Graduation.

The commencement season is coming on all over the land, and sweet girl graduates and eager boys have their hearts set on making theirs just as fine a commencement as anybody else had. Right now excitement over final examinations shares attention with excitement over graduation clothes and the class party—quite widely known as the "prom" and consequently more expensive than the old-style class dance, in the school gym.

There are class rings or class pins to be purchased, the school annual which every senior feels he cannot live without, photographs to send to loving relatives and to exchange with schoolmates, engraved cards and commencement invitations, and always, of course, the new clothes to wear to graduation exercises. It runs into money, as parents can tell you.

There have been movements in many schools to limit graduation expenses down to a thrifty minimum. Girls make their own dresses in sewing classes, flowers are taboo, except uniform small bouquets paid for from the class treasury, and so on. But thrift really isn't very popular among the boys and girls who are graduating. Teachers say it is almost impossible to get unified action on inexpensive commencements. They get no support from parents, who say indulgently, "Oh, well, you only graduate from high school once in your life!"

Unfortunately city schools try too much to copy college activities. That is why the party in the school gym has become a dinner dance at some expensive local hotel. In a big city with 2,000 students graduating in June it is estimated that the minimum special expenses will total $100,000. Principals and teachers deplore it, but parents accept it as inevitable.—Hattiesburg American.

Ford Comes to Aid Sufferers in Flood Area

Henry Ford has come to the aid of the flood victims. Twelve trucks, contributed by the Detroit automobile man, were to arrive today for use in rescuing marooned persons in the inundated sections.

The boats were taken from vessels purchased by Mr. Ford from the United States shipping board. They are being manned by the Red Cross.

Bill—Well, you have got a good head for lumber.

and COTTON

AFTER a hard day in the fields, Mr. Mule doesn't hold his ears very high. But give him a good feed—what a powerful difference that makes!

Same way with a cotton plant. Growing uses up its strength and energy. Just about chopping time every cotton plant in your fields needs a good feed.

Side-dress them with 150 to 200 pounds of Nitrate of Soda. Watch those cotton plants of yours pick up, thrive, put on squares and get fruit ahead of the boll weevil. That assures a real crop.

And consider this—an acre of cotton is just thousands of hungry plants. Feed them and they will pay you.

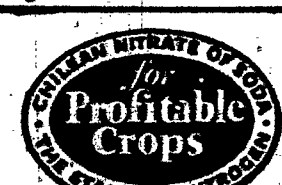

Cotton growers everywhere, practical farmers like yourself, have proved the value of side-dressing with Nitrate of Soda for producing hundreds of pounds of extra cotton over and above the yield they get off of fields not side-dressed.

Side-dressing does great things for corn, too. Do you want that profit paying cotton and corn? The way is easy.

Just cut out this advertisement and write your name and address in the margin. Then mail it to us. We will send you, without one penny of cost, our little book "Side-Dressing Cotton and Corn." Our manager is a practical cotton grower and knows just what conditions call for here in the Magnolia State.

Children of Mary Honor Their Mother

A special meeting of the Children of Mary was held at the Convent last Friday. The meeting was presided over by Father Gmelch and had for its chief purpose the selection from among the members of the girl who had proved herself in every sense of the word the best Child of Mary. The one deemed most worthy in the opinion of her fellow Sodality was Miss Kathleen Renshaw. Miss Abbotts Beyer ran a close second to Kathleen, receiving eleven votes to Kathleen's seventeen.

At the Convent, Sunday, May 28,

there was a reception at which five new members were admitted as Children of Mary. Then a procession was formed which wound its way to the Shrine of Our Lady of the World, where amidst gleaming lights the Blessed Mother welcomed her children. They offered her a tribute of love in prayer and song and as a pledge of their loyalty placed at her feet a basket of roses. The honor of presenting this tribute, which had long been coveted by every member of the Sodality was conferred upon Miss Kathleen Renshaw, who had been voted upon Friday as the best Child of Mary during the past year. After benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, with music and Senior members of the Sodality met at the Convent where refreshments were served.

Examinations Now a Reality. Talking of talents, the most brilliant of them all now seems to be at S. J. A., holding fast in his grasp all the girls of the High School Department. Surely, you have guessed rightly—it is none less than King Examination to whom all school girls must yield obedience. Daily since last Monday the questions have been piling in and we were most grateful for the much needed respite which the Holiday Thursday afforded. As this goes to press we are wrestling with English, the last exam for the week, and with the exception of chemistry the last of the session.

Run-Down gave out easily

"My health wasn't any so bad at all," says Mrs. H. L. Carter of Washington, N.C. "I would want to do my housework and I would give out before I had done anything at all. I did not have any strength, and if I did the least thing it seemed to tax me so I could not finish. I was run-down sure enough. Several of my friends had taken Cardui and they said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' I knew I needed something to build up my general health and to increase my strength. Finally one day when I was recovering from a spell of sickness, I decided to try Cardui. I got a bottle and before I took it I could not get my appetite and I did not give out nearly so quick. I took several bottles and I feel like a new woman. Two years ago I decided to take it again. It built me up and made me feel like a different person. Cardui has been in use for nearly 50 years."

Public Service Picnic.

Sunday, May 23, the Public Service employees are to have their annual outing at St. Stanislaus college.

A special train of seventeen coaches will convey the employees of the Company to Bay St. Louis. The officials of the Public Service have spared no pains nor expense to make the day a success as they have arranged to bring the Public Service orchestra and a jazz band to insure good music and dancing for their employees.

We don't exactly know their program for the day, but it is supposed that they will spend the morning in swimming and part of the afternoon dancing until game time. The Public Service's strong baseball nine are slated to meet the Rocks at 2:45 Sunday. Public Service has always been a big factor in the City Commercial leagues. In their lineup will be seen several ex-Southern leaguers who haven't entirely forgotten how the game is played. From the outlook of things now, it would appear that the Rocks are meeting the strongest team to play here this year.

Alumni Day.

Alumni day, which has been such a memorable occasion every year at Stanislaus up until 1916, will be revived Sunday, June 5th. Brother Peter had definitely announced that he has communicated with most of the Alumni and they have all answered favorably and have expressed their desire to be back again to review the scene of their school days, and to meet their old classmates from all parts of the country. Plans have been under way to show the old boys an indoor baseball game was started, that though they have left, the old school has still kept up its rapid strides of progress.

Members of the Alumni who have been seen under the Stanislaus colors in former days and who have taken advantage of the coaches they received here, will don baseball uniforms and oppose the school they at one time fought so hard for. Some of the former Rockchaws have become permanent fixtures in the constellation of baseball stars. Such stars as Lingo Phillips, Walter Cox, Bill Burns, G. Y. Blaize, Joe Laria, Nick Pettigrew, Guy Ros, Bernard Beaulieu, Rodney Bishop, Stanley Baron, Lt. John Soule and others will be seen in action here June 6th.

Second Childhood.

The elite of Stanislaus have formed a very exclusive golf club. Banned are those who look so imposing and majestic in his sawed-offs, is elected head of the club. Matt Montz applied for membership and was nearly accepted when someone suggested that he try on a pair of knickers to see if he would be a desirable member. Well, Matt doesn't belong to the club now. We are wondering whether the pants or Matt was made wrong. Matt, we give you the benefit of the doubt.

So far, no clubs or balls have been seen on the campus. If these so-called golfers coming around here don't hurry and buy some of these necessities to the game, we will be inclined to believe that they got short breeches to show off their ill-shaped limbs.

Sodality Picnic.

The boys of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, under the direction of Brother Edmund, had their annual picnic down at Lakeshore last Wednesday. Three trucks left the college grounds Wednesday morning loaded with a yelling mob of boys, bound for Lakeshore and a good time. The boys reached Lakeshore at about 9 o'clock and immediately set about to explore the surrounding country. Some of the boys rented boats and navigated the numerous bays and inlets. When lunch time arrived, the roll-call proved that none of the boys had strayed too far away from the main base to find his way back again; or was it the odor of the lunch which directed the wary boys back. At 1 o'clock the lunch was sufficiently nice to have drawn anybody anywhere, as ice cream, sandwiches, cake and all kinds of fruit was served in abundance.

After an hour or two of rest an indoor baseball game was started. This was a hotly contested affair and lasted until time to leave.

The Sodality returned with as many yells as they departed with and though some were not able to yell very loud, their efforts were an assurance that the picnic was a success.

Rocks Loo to Eberhardt.

The Rockchaws dropped their second straight game to the Eberhardt outfit last Sunday by a score of 6 to 1. The game was a dandy through-out and proved most interesting for the spectators.

Another Misfortune.

The Stanislaus Reserves journeyed out to the Kln last Sunday expecting to upset the dose that the Kln bunt had prepared for them, but strange surroundings plus a hit batter that might have worse put the Reserves down with the small end of a 6-2 score.

The Lumberjacks got off to a fine start in the second inning when Lott reached first on Tocco's error and Walker knocked a home run over the left field wall. In the fourth inning Burke was hit over the left eye by a pitched ball; for a time things looked bad for Ware, but everything turned out O. K. when Burke took his place.

A third beautiful belt for proficiency in spelling (second division) was drawn for by Masters Raymond Johnston, James Hobbs, Melvin Johnston, Theodore Heitzman and James Redding. Lucky winner, Raymond Johnston.

The final number, which appeals more directly to the senses, consisted in a lavish distribution of candies, ice cream and other refreshments to every member present. Needless to say this conclusion was thoroughly enjoyed.

It was through the kindness and generosity of Rev. Father Gmelch, Doctor C. L. Horton, Mr. A. A. Scalfide, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste and Mrs. B. R. Engman that we were enabled to procure so many and such valuable presents for our dear little children. We all share in their abundance of joy, and we cannot be too grateful to those noble hearts who so joyfully extended a helping hand.

SHERIFF MAKES LIQUOR RAID AT LAKESHORE HOME

Sidney Lafontaine Convicted of Having Liquor in Possession—Judge Breath Imposes Heavy Fine and Suspended Jail Sentence.

Sheriff Joseph C. Bontemps Friday night raided the home of Sidney Lafontaine, young white man residing at Lakeshore, and said to be an employee of the local railroad, and found several gallons of whiskey. Lafontaine was arrested and charged with having liquor in his possession. He was tried before Justice J. A. Breath Monday, who, after hearing the testimony, fined him $200.00 and imposed a jail sentence of three months, suspended on payment of fine and cost and pending good behavior; i. e. violating no law. The fine included all costs of court.

SIMPLE EXERCISES MARK CLOSING OF S. S. C. DAY SCHOOL

Death of Beloved Bro. Louis, Principal, Casts Gloom—Bro. Peter and Father Gmelch Deliver Addresses—Workers Rewarded.

Owing to the death of Brother Louis, beloved and much regretted principal of St. Stanislaus Day school, for nearly seven consecutive years, the closing exercises were most simple and of an entirely informal nature. The gloom cast over the little community of brilliant and valiant scholars has not yet faded away. The deep and true sorrow for the unexpected departure from this world of their devoted friend still lingers in the hearts of that sorrowful and appreciative little band. Therefore, as a mark of respect to his tender memory, they have felt themselves compelled, as it were, to refrain for the time being from any outburst of joy which naturally accompanies the ending of a successful school term.

Gathered in one of the classrooms, they anxiously awaited to hear a few friendly remarks which were to be addressed to them. Rev. Bro. Peter, president of St. Stanislaus college, who had been forced to put aside his multitudinous cares in order to be with his little friends for this occasion, was the first to address them. With a few choice words of sound advice, intermingled with bits of humor and a warm and friendly spirit in their tender hearts and they were unanimous in proclaiming their appreciation and their faithfulness in strictly following the path which he had traced for them in order to spend a fruitful and happy vacation. Last night, our beloved pastor, Rev. Father Gmelch, delivered the concluding address. It was clearly seen, from the very beginning, that his words had a magnetic influence upon his little hearers. They were thoroughly persuaded that a loving, sincere and devoted friend was speaking to them. His beautiful, exhortations touched mainly on their obligations to help dear father and mother, and to be strictly faithful to all their religious duties. Thus armed, it would almost be impossible not to bring their vacation to a most successful issue.

After the two masterly addresses, the choosing and awarding of the beautiful prizes followed on the program.

Valuable gold and silver coins, and richly decorated belts were the prizes drawn for by the pupils.

A valuable gold coin for merits (100 per cent. weekly average) was drawn by Masters Orest Laurent and Henry Fayard in the first round. Lucky winner, Orest Laurent.

A valuable gold coin for merits (100 per cent. weekly average) in the second round, was drawn for by Masters James Henry, Victor Luc and Eugene Monti. Lucky winner, James Henry.

A silver dollar for attendance was drawn for by Masters Orest Laurent and Henry Fayard. Lucky winner, Henry Fayard.

A beautiful belt for a successful test in Christian Doctrine was drawn for by Masters William Bourgeois, Sheldon Seuzeneau, Roland Dillmann, Lawrence Luc and John Demoran. Lucky winner, Lawrence Luc.

Another beautiful belt for proficiency in spelling (first division) was drawn for by Masters Lawrence Luc, Sheldon Seuzeneau, Orest Laurent, Roland Choina, Henry Fayard, Roland Dillmann and William Bourgeois. Lucky winner, Roland Choina.

A third beautiful belt for proficiency in spelling (second division) was drawn for by Masters Raymond Johnston, James Hobbs, Melvin Johnston, Theodore Heitzman and James Redding. Lucky winner, Raymond Johnston.

Day By Day in Mississippi

By Helen Goodwin Yerger

Jackson, Miss., May 28, 1927.

With the Bilko and Murphy rallies as water over the political dam, the announcement of the Conner Rally to be held here Monday, May 30, is a welcome source of anticipation to the public that hasn't been getting quite the "drip" of the safe, sane and dignified policies of the "highest office in the gift of the people of the state" that it did from political gatherings in the old days of mud-slinging and vituperation. Mr. Conner has a gift for speaking in pungent English, while keeping well within the bounds of forensic courtesy—a result, in part, of his experience as presiding officer of the House of Representatives, and there is a considerable portion of the great body of voters to whom this facility stands for qualities that they like to contemplate in a candidate for governor.

Governor Murphy's rally last Monday night drew a crowd that has been variously estimated as from 2,500 to 4,000, and his speech, which has been given wide circulation and favorable comment in the press, drew enthusiastic applause from his listeners. Governor Murphy was introduced by Mrs. J. L. Lovelace, of this city, who introduced Governor Whitfield on the occasion of his big rally in this city four years ago. Gov. Whitfield's speaking tour is announced to begin Tuesday, May 24, at Kosciusko, and will include for the week, Starkville, Ackerman, West Point and Macon.

Mr. Anderson has not yet announced a date for a rally in this city, but is making a thorough and effective campaign in the towns and rural districts of the state, and will, doubtless, honor the Capital City before very long.

Rehabilitation of Delta Holds Interest.

Completion of the organization of the Mississippi Commercial Rehabilitation corporation was effected Monday of this week by selection of a board of fifteen directors. The opening of an office in this city under a manager and with sufficient clerical help to carry on the important work, and by appointment of a committee composed of the larger wholesale and retail merchants of Jackson to organize the firm all over the state, the sale of stock in the corporation to firms outside doing business in the state and therefore interested in the restoration of financial prosperity to the delta. Another meeting held Friday made plans for securing through the officers of the corporation a thorough and accurate understanding on the part of the public of the aims and plan of operation of the corporation.

School and College Commencements.

Second to no other interest for the moment and to the large portion of the state's population directly or indirectly affected are the commencement exercises of the schools and colleges of the state, if one may judge by the space occupied in the papers by programs and write-ups of these events, all-important in the lives of young America, and the attendant affairs of a special nature, which will in turn give place to interest in summer schools, normals and church conferences.

Belhaven college is announcing conferences of the Synod of Mississippi to begin June 7th, and extend through June 23rd. The first of these, which is the fifteenth annual adult conference and standard training school combined will last from the opening date to the 14th of the month, is described in the prospectus as "a course in Bible for everybody, with a special course in church administration and problems. Credit courses and conferences are offered in woman's work, and work in specialized units of standard leadership training is offered for the different departments of the church." School exercises of the church are the third annual young people's intermediate encampment, which lasts from June 7 to June 13, and is limited to young people from 11 to 15 years of age, and the third is the seventh annual young people's conference from June 15 to 20. The third annual men's rally day and picnic-barbecue will be celebrated on June 14, with R. L. Landis, chairman; Rev. O. D. Jones, of Pontotoc; Rev. Homer McLain, of Oxford, and Hon. Julian Alexander, of this city as the principal speakers on the theme of "The Church Organized for Religious Education and Evangelism."

Mississippi Ranks Well in Vocational Agriculture.

F. J. Hubbard, director of the Bureau of Vocational Education of the State Department of Education, announces that the scoring of the states of the southern region, and the thirty-five factors recognized by the Federal Board for Vocational Education shows that with the highest score 2,237, the lowest 1,299, the medium, 1,849; Mississippi received 2,038.

The report from Mr. Hubbard's office, which, together with the report made by the Federal agricultural agent's report made after personal visit to the state forms the basis of the scoring for Mississippi as for other states, shows that: In 1925-26 Mississippi had 2.8 Smith-Hughes agricultural schools for every 1,000 boys from 14 to 21 years of age, while the average was 1.78 schools with only two states, Florida and South Carolina leading here; in 1925-26, Mississippi reached 6.47 per cent. Smith-Hughes agricultural classes, while the average for the southern region was 4.14 with only South Carolina and Florida leading in this respect; the average enrollment of agricultural pupils per all-day session for each school in the southern region was 25.27, and in Mississippi, 24.11; the average per capita cost of agricultural instruction of all types of pupils combined in 1925-26 was $49.33 for Mississippi, the lowest in the region being $36.13, and the highest $102.64; the average net profit from agricultural projects per pupil—all types—in 1924-25 was $135.52, while that for Mississippi was $183.93, only two states averaging higher, and the return from pupils' projects for each dollar invested in salaries paid Smith-Hughes agricultural teachers averaged $1.85 for the southern region and $2.17 for Mississippi.

Primary Election Date Fixed. Acting upon what seems to be the generally accepted opinion that it is just as well to get the primary election over with, as the case may be, over, with and out of the way, the State Democratic Executive committee in session here Tuesday set Tuesday, Aug. 2, the earliest day possible under the law, as the time for choosing candidates for state and county officers, and for the election of the party in Mississippi, the candidates then chosen are without opposition at the general election in November, and so are declared elected. In the event a second primary is necessary, which many political prognosticators are predicting, it will be held on the 23rd of August, the law fixing it three weeks after the first.

No action was taken by the executive committee with regard to the perforation of ballots between the lists of state and of county officers, in order to facilitate the counting of votes, and the sending in of returns, the matter being left up to the county committees, as no legal question is involved, but is a matter of expedition and convenience only.

Thirty days before the primary—or July 8, since the primary day month, was fixed as the last day on which candidates may file their names with election officers.

Salvaging of Cotton Progresses.

Receiver Snow, appointed under order of the Federal court to salvage the cotton in the flooded delta counties, is in the flood country superintending the work of getting the cotton out of the mud and water, and reports that satisfactory progress is being made. As the cotton is taken out it will be shipped to some central point, reconditioned, and then put on the market, the Marine Insurance companies paying all expenses, and taking the cotton at the market price on the date the water flooded the compresses. It is estimated that the companies will pay out something between three and five million dollars, and will then sell the cotton for what it will bring. The cotton involved in the receivership was in the compress warehouses at Greenville, Leland, Hollandale and Belzon. The companies will pay up the losses, or rather, to buy up the cotton at the market price; and this money will be distributed among the farmers in the flood section, helping materially to forward rehabilitation.

Field Co-operative Association Helps

Totals from the office of the Field Co-operative association show that for the past year the organization has loaned money to 745 young men and women to aid them in completing their education. Of these, 551 are in educational institutions of this state, 168 of them graduating; and 86 are in institutions outside of the state pursuing courses which could not be completed in the state.

City Colored School to Close.

There will be no graduates at the Valenti city school this year, and Principal W. G. Brown explains it with the fact the grade of the school has been advanced for affiliative purposes and students will attend school over a longer period henceforth. This heretofore has been a diploma. This will insure more and better results. Heretofore, if a student made second grade license he or she, along with the school's prescribed requirement, would graduate.

Since there are no graduates this year there will be no commencement exercises, but the same excellent entertainments given every year will occur this season just the same, held on June 3rd and 4th. On Monday, June 6th, the annual picnic to Gulf-side will take place.

Prof. S. J. Ingram, superintendent of city schools, will deliver the annual address on Friday, the 3rd, followed by a three-act play and other numbers.

On Saturday night, June 4th, concert concluded, embracing sketches, pantomimes, readings, folk dances, choruses, quartettes, duets and solos. Plantation songs will be a feature. Admission: Adults, 25c; children, 15c. School committee: Bernard Lizana, Mrs. Ellen Holmes, P. J. Benoit, Ernest Bernard, Wm. Foster.

Greenville Coming Back.

The Daily Democrat-Times published at Greenville, Miss., in May 16 issue, editorially, says:

"Yes, we are pressed out flat. We are broke. Our implements of livelihood have been torn from our grasp and in many cases we are left only with a determination to take stock of ourselves, which is about all we have left, ask a sympathetic nation to give us aid—the same consideration that would be shown to any stricken people, and then begin the task of rehabilitation.

"Are we going to allow our fathers and grandfathers to look down upon us and say that we couldn't carry on, when we have more to start with than they had? No, we are going to do the job. We are not going to run away from it. It's going to be a tough proposition and we'll lose a goodly number of salaried men and women because of the cut in forces. This is a sad truth that we must accept, although it hurts, investments here, and we who have learned to love this Delta and her splendid people, must not give up. We must not relax. We must put the proverbial shoulder to the wheel, increase our energies and win the contest, the possible bring this Delta back into her own."

After calling Mrs. Henry Sexton, of Chicago, to a hospital by a fake telephone message, thieves stole jewelry worth $5,000 from her home.

The World's Lowest Priced Cars with Supremely Beautiful FISHER BODIES!

Chevrolet is the only car in its price class offering bodies by Fisher—built as only Fisher can build, and styled as low-priced cars were never styled before!

Bodies by Fisher are everywhere they are acknowledged to represent the highest order of beauty, luxury, and safety—and never was the superiority of Fisher craftsmanship more evident than in the Most Beautiful Chevrolet.

Despite the lowness of Chevrolet prices, there is not the slightest compromise in design, construction or finish. All embody exactly the principles employed on the highest priced cars—a composite construction of selected hardwood and steel. All are finished in beautiful colors of lustrous, lasting Duco.

Enhancing the beauty of the bodies themselves are numerous features of distinction previously considered exclusive to the costliest cars—features typified by heavy full-crown, one-piece fenders and bullet-type headlamps.

Only the economies of Chevrolet's great volume production make possible such quality at Chevrolet prices—value so outstanding that comparisons cease to exist. Ask for a demonstration!

ROCKS LOSE LOGTOWN BASKETBALL GAME WITH N.O. SUNDAY

Bonura Steals Home and Saves Shutout—Eberhardt Build Score to 6-1.

The semi-pro Eberhardt team from New Orleans annexed another game from the Rockchaws last Sunday by a score of 6 to 1 in a game that was featured by speed and excellent twirling.

Fred Eberhardt's aggregation of ball tossers is composed in the main of stars from other Crescent City teams; hardly more than two players wearing the same insignia or club name on their shirts. Pros and semipro out of jobs take advantage of the free Coast trip with cats thrown in and Fred does not find it difficult to gather an "Eberhardt" team from the numerous "is" or "use to wases," lolling about the big burg with nothing on for "Church day."

It makes good practice for Commen's Rockchaws, but one must not lose sight of the fact that these same Rocks are a bunch of prep-schoolers.

Cotton Collier was opposed in the mound work by Sykes and with the exception of the fatal second frame, the whitest twirled a fine game, holding his own nicely.

Cotton started on the first man up by whiffing him neatly and the next two retired easily, but when the visitors came up for their second frame Collier pinked Meyer's arm with an inshoot. G. Higginbotham laced out a double to center, then Johnson was walked and filled the bags.

The rough weather was started and the squall struck with great force. Butzman caught one in the groove and doubled to right guard, scoring Meyer and G. Higginbotham. Halpin duplicated the Butzman feat in center and two more ambled in.

Cotton buckled up a couple of holes then and Sykes went down with Halpin in a nifty double play, and Clark was easy out; Rinaldo to Montz. Such was the play, but from a "pink," a walk and a trio of doubles, but it was enough to finish the freezing performance.

Mr. Sykes was trimming the plate corners with sundry and divers shoots and the Rocks could not even register a safety till Montz connected over the keystone in the fourth frame; but the hit didn't avail much as Matt was forced at second and the next two went down in order.

The Rocks lost a great chance to score in the third when the frame was crowded. Perre hit to short, whose throw came low to first and was safe as Johnson dropped the pill. Bonemps whiffed, Perre was permitted second on an illegal delivery by Sykes, Collier walked and Rinaldo was pinked, filling the paths. The big "BUT" came in their when Fernandez popped to Dittman and Big Zeke sent an easy grounder to second.

Zeke Steals Home. Egg after egg had gone up on the board for Stanislaus. The inning arrived and it looked as if the basket would be filled and a shutout posted, but Bonura started the frame by a liner through Sykes that had sparks jumping from it and Mr. Sykes wished it bon-voyage. Zeke pliffed second advance to third by Montz's single to right, Schwartz tried hard to land but struck out.

As Sykes was winding up, Commagere singled to Zeke to come home and the big express thundered—Faber was at bat. Catcher Bauer pushed Faber aside to catch Zeke, who was called safe and Faber's interference.

That steal saved a shutout. The visitors scored two more in the ninth on a walk and two singles.

"Better Homes" Essay Contest

(By Edna Vainin, Bay High School) This essay was not a prize winner, however, it was considered "very practical" and given meritorious mention.

"The people of moderate means in the present day, when building homes, are finding it necessary to economize in every way possible. Every practical" and given meritorious mention.

"The value of land and material is so high that people must build smaller houses on less space. Some people would think that small homes would be very inconvenient because the furniture would have to be crowded, but this is not so. The homes of today are equipped with all modern conveniences, and when the furniture is properly placed, prove to be very comfortable.

"Clothes closets save the space once occupied by the bulky wardrobe. The sitting room, equipped with a davenport, takes the place of the extra room once necessary as a guest room.

"The most important factors of better homes are modern plumbing fixtures, electric lights and the modern kitchen which is made small and narrow, very unlike the kitchen of olden times. The fixtures and furniture being very few, consisting generally of a range, either gas, oil or electric, a few low shelves to take the place of the table that once occupied so much space, a sink, a kitchen cabinet and a stool, no chairs. The stool is made high for convenience. Another thing that has been taken out is the bulky wood box—it is of no use today.

"The floors of the modern homes are painted and covered with linoleum, so that the use of a scrubbing brush is not necessary. To keep the floors clean a damp mop must be passed over them frequently, but this is not hard. The vacuum cleaner also plays an important part in house cleaning. It does not raise the dust; therefore the furniture need not be dusted often.

"A small house can be made very attractive because it does not require much work. The grounds around the house should be planted with grass, flowers and shrubbery.

"Every home is a house but every house is not a home. It takes love to make a home, and no one can love a house that is dingy and old-fashioned. Surroundings are not cheerful and cause the people to be irritable; therefore it is necessary that we should try to better our home surroundings."

State Supt. Education Returns From Hawaii

Jackson, Miss., May 19, 1927. The Sea Coast Echo:

Returned a few weeks ago from Hawaii, where I had been in company with Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior, United States Commissioner of Education, John J. Tigert, and others to represent the United States government at an educational conference in Honolulu. Nine other countries sent delegates to this meeting which was called under act of congress by the president of the United States. The Hawaiian Islands were discovered by an Englishman, Captain James Cook in 1778 and annexed to the United States government in 1898. They are very valuable as an outpost for defense and also from the standpoint of income taxes, custom dues collected from other countries several million dollars more than they cost the government.

The greatest mixture of people in the world is found in these islands, forty per cent. being Japanese, and the rest Chinese, native Hawaiians, Porto Ricans, Portuguese, Koreans, Filipinos and white people. They are all proud of their citizenship as Americans and loyal in every sense of the word.

I enjoyed the trip very much but was more than glad to get back to the "Old Magnolia State."

COMMENT ON SPORTS

Speaking about public golf courses the other day, and by this phrase we mean municipal courses, it is stated that there are 201 public links, according to a survey of the U. S. Golf association. More than fifty per cent are located in the Middle West, with Illinois leading the nation with twenty-two, only eight of which are in Chicago.

Thirty years ago New York City opened the first public course, a nine-hole affair, which was so popular that the next year saw it increased to the eighteen holes. A few years ago the golf association, realizing the importance of the public links, organized a section to care for this division of golfing, with a cup for the team championship. From the ranks of the public links have come two stars. Frank Dolp, of Portland, Oregon, and George J. Voigt, of Washington.

Tilden and Hunter, after successfully repulsing the German men on their own courts, are keeping up the good work. In Brussels they won the International matches by the score of four to one, the only losing point being Hunter's defeat by Washington. After Big Bill conquered the conqueror, Hunter the Belgian said, "Anyone who beats Tilden this year will know he has been in a tennis match."

Nevertheless, Big Bill is sure to require that he has to overcome the French. Youth and stamina are on the side of the Gallic stars. They have a future ahead of them and this is the year for America to stop them if it is to be done soon. If Tilden can't do it there are no young stars here who have enough experience to make the grade.

The winner of the Sharkey-Maloney fight last Thursday has as his next opponent none other than Jack Dempsey, and in the meantime the champion will fight no major challenger, contenting himself, probably, in order to take no more ring experience. It is expected that the fight will come in August. Prior to that time Dempsey, if the Boxing Commission permits, will take on Paulino. If this fight is staged the winner may first last week's winner for the chance at Dempsey.

The big league fight looks very much as if the rest of the aggregations were joined in a chase for the New York scalps. The Giants have shown unexpected strength and the Yankees, known to be strong, have strutted their stuff. Both teams have found unexpected help. The Giants amazed the national contestants with Farrell, who stepped so firmly in Jackson's shoes that it is doubtful if Travis can take them off him. The Yankees unexpectedly discovered a home-run slugger in Gehrig, who has made the Big Babe hustle to keep ahead at all.

Brooklyn's fine playing since the first two weeks has been another outstanding development in the senior circuit. If the Dodgers keep the pace the old flag will be on their pole at the end of the year. The start of the Dodgers was woeful, losing practically all the games for nearly three weeks. If the infield will hold tight the pitchers will do their end of the job.

She is survived by four daughters who have the sympathy of many friends wherever known.

—Bay St. Louis and other Hancock friends of Hon. Edward Adam, of Pass Christian, outstanding candidate for lieutenant-governor, will learn with more than ordinary interest of the success he is meeting with over the state in his campaign. He recently named flatter than a door the river to the effect he was having his printing done outside the state. Mississippi's next lieutenant-governor should come from the Coast. Mississippi's fastest growing section.

—Frank Gutierrez is an avowed candidate for the office of J. P. in the Bay St. Louis district and has entered upon the duties of an active campaign. Mr. Gutierrez held a similar trust in Beat No. 1 (Pearlington-Logtown district) and served with marked ability and general satisfaction. He hopes to be elected on his record and his energetic assistance in the past. He has been a resident of the district for several years.

—Miss Melvina Rod spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. O. M. Villere, of Waveland.

—Local Manager J. J. Hood has recovered from his recent illness to the extent he has returned to the duties of his office as resident manager for the Southern Bell Telephone company, since Monday, which is here noted with satisfaction. Mr. Hood and his force have prepared "copy" for a new issue of telephone directory, for distribution in June. The new directory will carry many changes and a number of additions. In future there will be a more frequent issue of the directory.

—Force of workers on the Bay St. Louis bi-county bridge have been moved from Bay St. Louis city side over to the Harrison county bay line, to which point operations have been transferred. Piles are driven at a rapid rate daily and already there is a long line of "stills" projecting out into the waters. Receiving necessary dimensions from highway authorities, longer piling are ordered and a continuation from the Bay St. Louis city side of the bridge will continue on arrival of material.

—Attorney Robt. L. Genin has in course of completion an addition to his office building, in Main street, which he will use for his own professional purpose. The addition is a room of about 20x20, colored, and well finished, with an adjoining dressing room, and will be soon ready for occupancy. Attorney Genin will use the addition as a consultation room and for general work purposes, the privacy of which will be of much advantage. His present office space will be used as a reception and stenographer's room.

—Mrs. (Dr.) A. A. Kergosien, Miss Clara Kergosien, Miss Leonie Perre and Mr. Laurent L. Kergosien motored to Hattiesburg Tuesday afternoon to witness the graduation exercises of State Teachers' college, their relative, Miss Etha Kergosien, a member of Class '27. Miss Kergosien, who returned to her home in Gulfport with the party, made an unusually brilliant record and well entitled to her degree. She completed her four-year course in two years by attending summer school, and so well she did in her history work that for the past six weeks she taught history at the college.

—St. Stanislaus college, Bro. Peter president, has had one of the most successful seasons in its history, and with commencement exercises to occur on Sunday, June 12th, there will go forth into the world one of the largest graduating classes known during the college's long existence. Thirty-nine young gentlemen will receive their sheepskin, with the usual short but interesting ceremony incidental thereto. This is a splendid number and worthy of notice, and congratulations are due to all concerned.

—Formal opening of the "Hancock County Bank" at Long Beach will take place this afternoon from 4 o'clock to 8 o'clock in the evening, to which the public is cordially invited. There will be general inspection of the bank's beautiful new building and equipment, and a reception of guests on Monday morning the bank will open ready for business. The management of the Hancock County Bank is to be congratulated on this master stroke of enterprise, and the wish is mingled with our congratulations that every success may attend the new bank during its long and constructive career.

—Beginning next Saturday the seat-rent system of pews will be inaugurated at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, and since the plan works excellently at all other places where in vogue, it is expected to be equally as successful here. Bay St. Louis has an immense floating population during the summer, worshippers who have no pews and the payment of a 10-cent fee for a seat will avoid embarrassment and assure one a seat. Mr. Christian Capdeville has been advocating this plan for the local church, and reports while all sections of the county are quiet, the people seem happy and prosperous as a general rule. "I never saw so many new automobiles at one time in the county," said our good friend, Van, "and this must be taken as an evidence that the people of Hancock are just as prosperous and progressive as anywhere else." He has friends in every nook and corner of the county and meeting the citizenry of the county was a mutual pleasure. Assessor Whitfield will now continue his private comparing the rolls and expect to have them ready in ample time as the law requires and for inspection of the Board of Supervisors.

Miss Saucier to Graduate From State College.

Miss Valmae G. Saucier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stuart Saucier, of Bay St. Louis, is member of the graduating class of the Mississippi State College for Women, at Columbus, forty-second annual commencement exercises occurring over a five-day period, from June 2 to June 6th.

Miss Saucier will graduate with all the honors of her class. She secures her degree after the full four-year academic course, preceded by her graduation from St. Joseph Academy, Bay St. Louis. She was recently selected by the Bay St. Louis Board of School Trustees to the 1927-28 session, to say nothing of the fact that only such teachers possessing degrees and all qualifications for a better school all the while.

—The excellent entertainment presented by pupils of the grammar grades at Central School for the night well pleased the excellent training and resultant work carried on at that institution. It was well there was an overflowing crowd, to use an expressive term, for every number of the program justified the attendance and the wrap, attention given through the evening. It must necessarily be gratifying to the Board of trustees and members of the executive and teaching faculty that every effort has been crowned with success and that the school work is not only brought to a high standard but is increasing. The present office space will be used as a reception and stenographer's room.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

The present social season is witnessing an unusually large number of social gatherings, from week to week, to say nothing of the almost daily smaller affairs, not chronicled in this column. Bridge, accelerates in popularity. Quite a charming young woman who goes out aptly, and who confesses bridge her chief diet, to use her own words, said: "I must play the more fascinating game, for one seems to never tire learning the finer points, to say nothing of the engrossing interest."

With the advent of summer season various one and two table clubs were formed, and from week to week anticipation keys to higher pitch. Finally, with the idea of November majority of visitors and members of the summer colony have departed for home and by necessity various clubs cease functioning until the recurrent season.

At the Hotel Weston Wednesday there was a delightful luncheon preceding the reorganization of the Entree Nons club. Two tables constituted the first of weekly meetings, and possibly a third table might be added later. Mrs. C. G. Moreau was hostess.

If card playing, aside from its delightful social aspect, is not only a source of entertainment, but to past time away from one's home, one must occasion of a "Tempus Fugit" club?

Owing to the inclement weather of Saturday night adverse conditions forced the cancelling that evening of the Bay-Waveland Yacht club dance. It was generally regretted. There has not been a dance for a telling period and devotees of Tersiphere have felt the long void. Better luck next time, B.-W. Y. C.

One of the smaller, but not less delightful, bridge clubs met Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Weston on the South River drive, and the zesty pleasure of bridge was never more enjoyed.

Claiming interest was the afternoon bridge party given by Miss Gex at the home of her mother, Mrs. V. Gex, on the north beach drive, when three tables served to interest that many guests. Echoes of the delightful afternoon long lingered after all guests had departed.

It is noted larger bridge parties given from week to week grow numerically more pretentious with an increase of so many charming visitors and new residents to our beloved fair and to the delightful social atmosphere of Bay St. Louis as a place of charm and interest.

Tuesday afternoon witnessed, perhaps, the largest party of the season, and one of the many more enjoyable ones. It will ever remain fondly entrenched in delightful memory.

Mrs. Roger M. Boh, popular young matron, and Miss Mary Perkins, evenly and charmingly popular, were joint hostesses to many friends at Co
